

CV

drs. Lodewijk Michel Klootwijk (1966)

Lodewijk Klootwijk is chief executive of the European Golf Course Owners Association (EGCOA). This organization represents more than 600 courses in 17 countries in Europe. The association was founded in 2003 and has three main goals: Grow the game of Golf, Represent the Golf Course owners on a European level and professionalize the golf business.

The EGCOA organizes the yearly European Golf Business Conference for owners, suppliers and other stakeholders in the industry.

The EGCOA cooperates with various organizations, like Golf Environment Europe, FEGGA, CMAE, EIGCA, PGAE's, EGIA, European Tour, etc.

The EGCOA has strong ties with the US NGCOA, the Canadian NGCOA and the Asian AGCOA. Together they form the World Alliance of Golf Course Owners.

Lodewijk is also chief executive of the Dutch Golf Course Owners Association.

Lodewijk has been in the golf business since he left University. He managed various golf courses in Holland. Lodewijk is a trustee of the Foundation Golf Environment Europe. He lives in Amsterdam with Marjon and little Alexander.

More information about the EGCOA on www.egcoa.eu.